UNITED STATES EVENTING ASSOCIATION

NOW celebrating our 61st Anniversary as the national association for the sport of eventing, we provide creative and strategic advertising solutions that reach our audience across multiple platforms.

The USEA expands every year and becomes increasingly more progressive in its vision and approach to helping develop the future of eventing. With the addition of advanced communication tools such as the USEA website, our magazine Eventing USA, the USEA E-Newsletter, Rules for Eventing, AEC Program, and Annual Meeting Program, the USEA is on the cutting edge of communication.

Companies seeking an exciting and lucrative enterprise within the eventing community should consider the United States Eventing Association first; we are the place for all things eventing.

The USEA membership demographic is a compelling one – dedicated to riding, affluent, and well-educated. Our average member is a female between the ages of 35 and 49 who owns at least one horse and has ridden and competed for more than 16 years. She competes at the Novice level at four to six USEA recognized competitions each year and has an annual equestrian budget of $10,000 to $30,000. She spends $300 to $500 per event and typically participates in 1 to 2 clinics per year. She has a bachelor’s degree, makes between $80,000 and $125,000, and owns her home – valued between $200,000 and $400,000. In addition, she owns a horse trailer and a towing vehicle.

WHAT IS EVENTING?

Eventing is often described as a “horse triathlon.” It is a three-phase equestrian sport designed to test the training, ability, and strength of a horse as well as the connection between horse and rider.

From its roots as a comprehensive test of military horses, eventing has since evolved into a modern sport enjoyed by amateurs of all ages as well as professional riders at the Olympic and international levels.

The USEA recognizes and helps govern seven levels of competition in the United States — Beginner Novice, Novice, Training, Modified, Preliminary, Intermediate, and Advanced.

THE DRESSAGE PHASE

The dressage phase begins every eventing competition. In French, the word dressage means “training.” Originally designed to show the military horse’s ability to perform intricate movements on the parade route and in formation, today the dressage test comprises a series of complicated movements performed in an enclosed arena. Precision, smoothness, suppleness, rhythm, and balance must be displayed in order to obtain the best marks from the judges. Ideally the horse appears to perform the test movements of its own accord, working in harmony with his rider.

The training required for the dressage phase is also quite important in the other two phases of competition, as it helps develop the muscular strength, suppleness, and obedience needed to negotiate the cross-country and show jumping courses.

THE CROSS-COUNTRY PHASE

The object of this phase is to test the horse’s speed, endurance, and jumping ability over varied terrain and obstacles. Depending on the level of difficulty, the pair will bound up and down banks, into and through water, over narrow obstacles requiring a precise line of approach in one breath, and wide, imposing obstacles that ask for a supreme launching effort the next.

In order to accomplish all of this, the horse and rider need to be at peak condition. The horse must be bold, yet still respond immediately to his rider’s requests, and the rider must take care to find the best route to and between each obstacle, expending only as much of the horse’s energy as necessary, so that they can successfully tackle the next day’s show jumping course.

THE SHOW JUMPING PHASE

The show jumping competition ends the event. The course is comprised of a series of colorfully painted fences made up of lightweight rails that are easily knocked down. The courses are designed to test the horse and rider’s ability to negotiate a variety of fences that differ in height, width, and appearance. This requires very exact riding, and a horse that is balanced and careful enough to make tight turns, shorten or lengthen his stride in an instant, and tuck his knees up to his chin to leave all the rails in their cups. For spectators, this phase offers some breathtaking moments, as just a single dropped rail can change the final standings dramatically.

ADVERTISING OPPORTUNITIES

USEA WEBSITE

Banner ads are available on the newly-redesigned www.useventing.com. The USEA website includes extensive information on USEA programs, events, results, news, and educational articles. With over 6,500,000 website page views and 630,000 unique website visitors each year, the USEA website will deliver your ad to a highly receptive audience.

EVENTING USA

Eventing USA is the official printed publication of the United States Eventing Association (USEA). This bi-monthly four-color glossy magazine has been published for almost 60 years by the USEA and is the only publication of its kind – dedicated to the Olympic sport of eventing and delivering entertaining and educational content to our nearly 13,000 members. Each issue is full of feature content covering topics from breeding and young horse training to how to ride that winning dressage test and advice from the best professionals in their respective fields. Profiles on top horses and riders, important association news, and our popular Grid Pro Quo series round out this award-winning magazine.

USEA E-NEWSLETTER

The USEA E-Newsletter is distributed weekly to over 41,000 subscribers including USEA members, sponsors, owners, riders, and media every Monday. The E-Newsletter covers recent event results, educational articles, the USEA Activity Calendar, and news coverage on the sport of eventing in the U.S. and abroad. There is one banner ad available each issue and your ad will be prominently displayed within the body of the E-Newsletter.

USEF RULES FOR EVENTING

The USEF Rules for Eventing is the go-to publication for all eventers. This digest-size publication includes all of the current eventing rules, as well as important information for all USEA members.

USEA AMERICAN EVENTING CHAMPIONSHIPS

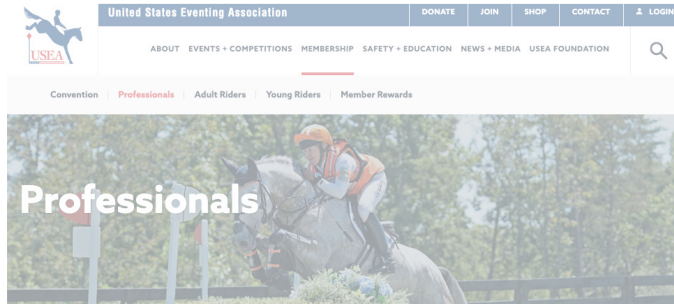

The USEA American Eventing Championships are the national championships for the sport of eventing. Amateurs, juniors, and professional riders alike can compete at any level from Beginner Novice through Advanced to test their mettle against the best in the country, and vie for exciting prizes, cash, and the chance to be named the best in the nation at their respective levels.

The USEA hosted the nation's largest event to date at the 2019 AEC at the Kentucky Horse Park with nearly 1,000 starters.

In 2020, the American Eventing Championships will return to the iconic Kentucky Horse Park in Lexington, Ky. where the event is aiming to set new records. With legendary cross-country turf and the infamous Rolex stadium, the USEA is excited for the opportunity to host the AEC at such a world renowned venue once again.

PUBLICATION PROFILE

- Eventing USA offers advertisers a quality selling environment to an audience with concentrated buying power. The magazine's readers actively participate in the sport of eventing, comprised of dressage, cross-country and show jumping. Considered the triathlon of equestrian competition, eventing requires the purchase of more horse and rider equipment and other related products than any other equestrian discipline. This brings more impact to your advertising dollar.

- Eventing USA is the only national magazine devoted exclusively to eventing. We are very proud of our award winning publication printed bi-monthly by the United States Eventing Association, Inc. This 64-80 page full color magazine is distributed to over 12,000 members, from Beginner Novice level riders to Olympic gold medalists, including horse owners, trainers, grooms, officials and even family members. Everyone who loves eventing reads Eventing USA.

- Eventing USA provides quality educational material to its audience. Each issue gives insight to a variety of topics including training, nutrition, horse care, veterinary treatments, safety, competition results, current events, and more.
